

JEFFREY VINCENT CARR, PH.D.
Department of Philosophy and Religion, Christopher Newport University

AREAS OF SPECIALIZATION

Aristotle and Ancient Philosophy, Kant and Enlightenment Philosophy, Metaphysics

AREAS OF COMPETENCE

Ethics (Theoretical and Applied), Logic (Formal and Informal), Medieval Philosophy, Philosophies of Religion and Psychology, Classical Culture
Competence in design and implementation of databases and CAL programs for philosophers.

ACADEMIC POSITION

Assistant Professor of Philosophy, Department of Philosophy and Religious Studies, Christopher Newport University, Administration Building, 1 University Place, Newport News, VA 23606.

Current Teaching Responsibilities (Spring 2005):

Philosophy 101: Critical Thinking

Philosophy 201: Ancient and Medieval Philosophy

Philosophy 202: Modern Philosophy

Previous Teaching Responsibilities:

Philosophy 304: Ethics and Current Value Questions (S 2004)

Philosophy 451: Socrates (F 2004)

Philosophy and the Golden Rule (For the Lifelong Learning Society)

Co-curricular Responsibilities

The Keith McLoughland Great Books Series

The University Academic Status Committee

The Philosophy/Religious Studies Teaching Forum

EDUCATION

Doctor of Philosophy [Philosophy], University of Edinburgh, Scotland 1997.

Dissertation: "Aristotle's Use of 'Genus' in Metaphysics, Logic and Science" Supervisors: Dr. T. C. Scaltsas, Dr. P. Crivelli and Mr. W. Charlton.

Master of Arts [Philosophy], University of Waterloo, Canada, 1989. Thesis: "Kantian Objectivity: Connecting the Dots". Supervisor: Dr. R. A. George.

Bachelor of Arts [Honours Philosophy], University of Waterloo, Canada, 1987. Thesis: "William James and the Will to Believe". Supervisor: Dr. B. Suits

RECENT POSITIONS

1. Philosophy Lecturer
Illinois State University Assistant Professor of Philosophy, Normal, IL 1998-2002
University of Edinburgh Tutor, Edinburgh, Scotland 1992 – 1997
Renison College of the University of Waterloo. Teaching Assistant, Waterloo ON 1991
Wilfrid Laurier University Teaching Assistant, Waterloo ON 1991
University of Waterloo Teaching Assistant, Waterloo ON 1987 – 1988
2. Research Fellow Project Archelogos , Edinburgh 1994 – 1997
Project Archelogos is a database of Ancient Philosophy using hyper-technology to link Greek and English texts, logical analyses of the arguments and alternative interpretations. LogAnalysis is a multimedia version of the same materials plus items of interest to a non-technical audience, for use in high school teaching.